

Programme

10.30 Coffee available in 1.10

11.00 –1.00 First session, three parallel panels of four papers

1A Greek History (Room G 21 – Entrance 3 and turn sharp right)

i) Daniel Unruh, University of Cambridge

Poleis and Monarchs in Thucydides

ii) Jennifer Martinez, University of Liverpool

The women of the ten thousand: female captives and army followers in Xenophon's Anabasis

iii) Jacob Miller St John's College, University of Oxford

Factional conflicts and the third-century expansion of the Achaean League

iv) John Dakas, University of Oxford

The Search for the Person in Athenian νόμοι

1B The late Republic (Room G 19 – Entrance 2 and turn sharp left)

i) Fiona Noble, University of Newcastle upon Tyne

Marius, Catulus, Sulla, and the Battle after Vercellae

ii) Edwin Shaw, University College London

Sallust and the Restoration of the Tribunate

iii) Patrick Cook, University of Cambridge

What's Wrong with Piso's Face?

iv) Eleonora Zampieri, University of Leicester

“Alteri se populares, alteri optimates at haberi et esse voluerunt”: political identity and religion in the architecture of Caesar and Pompey in Rome

1C The later empire (Room 1.02 – Entrance 1, left up stairs and left again)

i) Alex Imrie, University of Edinburgh

The Treasonous Caesar: the involvement of P. Septimius Geta in the assassination plot of AD 205.

ii) Melissa Markauskas, University of Manchester

Ergo Romanae religiones ad Romana iura non pertinent? (Symmachus, Relat. 3, 13): The place of Roman law in the Altar of Victory Controversy

iii) Belinda Washington, University of Edinburgh

How to make an Ideal Empress: Julian's Speech of Thanks to Eusebia

iv) Robert Brown, Cardiff University

“An aspect as such to drive one almost mad.” Observations on Military Display in Late Antiquity

1.00 –2.00 Lunch

2.00–3.30 2nd session

2A The early Republic (Room G 21)

i) Fabrizio Biglino, Royal Holloway, University of London.

Private and civic warfare in the Early Roman Republic: the case of the Fabii

ii) Joshua R. Hall, Cardiff University

Contextualizing ‘Legitimate’ and ‘Illegitimate’ Violence and Warfare in the Early Republic

iii) Janet Kroll, University College London

Some observations concerning Romulus' tyrant image.

2B The early empire (Room G19)

i) Tom Derrick, University of Bristol

Containers and their Contents: Exploring the relationships between the perfumers and glassblowers of early-Imperial Roman Campania

ii) Richard Warren, University of Durham

Tacitean National Heroes in 19th Century Art

iii) Donald MacLennan, University of Durham

Aristocratia in Josephus: the High Priest and the Sanhedrin in the Herodian-Roman Period.

2C Encounters with the gods (Room 1.02)

i) Hamutal Minkowich, University College London

Thucydides and the Limits of the Rational

ii) Elena Giusti, University of Cambridge

Virgil's Arae and the Treaty of Philinus - iii) Alain Gough-Olaya, University of Liverpool

The Religious Life and Work of Jane Harrison and E.R. Dodds.

3.40–4.40 Plenary session (G19)

4.40 Closing Business Session (G19)

5.00 p.m. Reception in Museum of Classical Archaeology