

The seventieth meeting

The 70th meeting was held in Dr. Eden's Room, Trinity Hall at 8.30 pm. on Monday 27 Jan. 47. Owing to the absence of the president who was 'sorely stricken' Mr. Lee took the chair and signed the minutes of the previous meeting. Mr. Ferguson then read a paper entitled 'The evidences of theism: modern arguments in an ancient setting'. The discussion that followed went on until 10.30 pm., when the meeting was adjourned, and even after that time until the fire began to sink. Two new members joined the club at this meeting, Miss E. S. Rawlinson of Giston and Mr. J. I. Spencer of Cairns', thus raising the total number of members to 48.

The Seventy-second Meeting

The 72nd meeting was held in Dr. Eden's Room, Trinity Hall at 8.30 pm. on Monday 3rd March 1947. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and signed. Officers for the following year were then elected, as follows: Mr. J. R. Bambrough to be secretary, and Mr. M. W. McCrum to be a member of the committee. A vacancy was left in the committee, so that it might be filled by a member of Giston or Newnham Colleges at a later meeting. Mr. R. S. Howland was re-elected president. It was then decided to hold one meeting in the Easter term, which should be of a purely social character. The date was fixed as 2nd June, and the arrangements were left in the hands of the Secretary. After this business, Miss R. M. Bunbury read a paper entitled 'The Gentleman's Progress'. The discussion that followed went on until 10.50 pm. when the meeting was adjourned.
